

Name: Gustavo Santana Hernández

Born in Puerto del Rosario (Fuerteventura) in 1973, Santana has a degree in Naval and Ocean Engineering from the Polytechnic University of Madrid and a Mechanical Engineer from the University of Las Palmas de Gran Canaria.

He belongs to the Corps of State Naval Engineers, serving in his last stage as technical advisor to the Directorate General for the Merchant Marine. During his professional career, he has held positions of public responsibility as Deputy Minister of Infrastructure and Transport of the Government of the Canary Islands; vice president and managing director of the Canary Ports, Public Business Entity.

Likewise, in the private and teaching domain, he has been a director of a passenger and freight shipping company, a naval and industrial engineering consultant and an associate professor at the University of Las Palmas de Gran Canaria in the Naval Engineering Degree.