

Name: Javier Fernández Abad

Born in the city of Huesca in 1972, Javier Fernández has a degree in Law from the University of Zaragoza (1990-1995)

He belongs to the Superior Corps of Civil Administrators of the State, and currently serves as Head of the Support Unit of the Director General of the Merchant Navy. During his professional career he has held different positions of public responsibility in the General Administration of the State, as Policy Advisor in the Ministry of Economy and Finance and Secretary General of the Government Delegation in Madrid, as well as in the regional Administration of the Community of Madrid, where he served as Technical General Secretary.

He has completed the Specialist Course in International Maritime Law, taught by the Spanish Maritime Institute, and the Master in Public Management, organized by the EOI-Business School and the Institute of Fiscal Studies.